

BIP acquires a majority stake in WMD Service GmbH, a provider of household aides in accordance with the German Social Security Code (Sozialgesetzbuch). The founders remain invested and retain their positions as managing directors.

Dortmund, Luxembourg, 25.09.2026 – BIP IV SCSp, a fund advised by BIP Capital Partners (“BIP”), is acquiring a majority stake in WMD Service GmbH, Dortmund. The founders remain invested with a significant share and will continue to serve as managing directors of the company. With this transaction, WMD gains an experienced and long-term oriented partner for the next phase of the company’s development.

WMD Service GmbH, under its brand WMD Alltagshelden, has established itself as a nationwide provider of household aides in accordance with the German Social Security Code (Sozialgesetzbuch). The company supports people who temporarily or permanently need help in their daily lives due to illness, post-clinical recovery, pregnancy, or other health restrictions. In addition to organizing suitable household aides, WMD also handles essential administrative processes related to applications and billing with the health insurance, care insurance, and private accident insurers.

With BIP Capital Partners, WMD gains a financially strong partner that will actively support the further development of the company. The focus will lie particularly on further professionalization of the organization, continuation of organic growth, and the expansion of its nationwide presence.

“With BIP, we have found a partner who shares our entrepreneurial vision and can support us in taking WMD to the next stage of development. We look forward to further professionalizing our structures together and being able to support even more people in Germany in their daily lives with our services in the future,” says Jume Lee, managing director of WMD Service GmbH.

BIP also sees significant potential for the further development of the company. “WMD combines a socially relevant service offering with a compelling growth story and a dedicated team. We look forward to accompanying the development of the company as an active sparring partner and implementing the next growth steps together with the management,” says Sebastian Brose, Partner at BIP Capital Partners.
